For those of us leaving Tulsa, here is one of probably many looks back. We all realize that we can return, but we also know that Tulsa will never be the same as it was in High School!

Tulsa State Fair: Remember complaining about tired feet, looking at the opposite sex, and spending your hard earned money.

City of Faith: Tulsa's newest addition is known around the world.

Philbrook Museum: Tulsa's world famous museum is also the home of a beautiful garden.

Tulsa University: Tulsa's little Harvard of the Southwest.

Starting the Day Off Early

6:00 a.m.-7:55 a.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, or Friday feels like the end of the world. Some of us try with all our might not to admit to ourselves that we really must wake up our brains and prepare for the exhilarating day of learning ahead of us.

After a nutritious breakfast of chips and a coke from Quik Trip, our energy is restored and we might make it to school. On Fridays, many students starve till they get to school so that they can buy donuts like Laura Randick is from Barry Hatchett. Some brainwashed individuals actually arrive at school early simply for the satisfaction of a close parking space. (Which is quite an accomplishment.)

Others of us, like Joan Holmes and Gerald Klein find it difficult to get to school awake, while other students are playing football at 7:00 a.m. A classic example of the Monday morning blues for a girl hits hard when she finds to her horror that she forgot to take out her curlers. Tracy Hammon and Cindy Wright show us the symptoms of an acute case of embarrassment.

Nothing strikes worse than an early morning realization that you need paper. The famous BOOKSTORE always comes through. These students find that this quaint little hole-in-the-wall saves them from a miserable day of borrowing notebook paper. Most of Memorial's student body will all agree on one matter though. No one seems to know which is worse, before 7:55 a.m., or after. Heaven knows what will happen in the hours ahead.

Minute by Minute

down like he's the 6:30 a.m. tardy bell rings. Memorial Chargers already start counting the minutes until lunch. In between the lessons and the note-taking, we had the most popular items to make time fly. There were the Rubber Bands (frustrating little things, aren't they?) and Walkmans (I said WALKMANS, can't you hear me?). Concert Chorus occasionally entertained us with music. (As they say, "Music thrills the soul".)

Lunch time brought about new energy, as the students sat to eat. Eric Weatherby, who had been working with a partner at the thought of a nuclear submarine, submarine, with their empty stomachs, had not been able to be present in time for the white plate lunch. Michael Marc, Brian, and Elliott tried the sandwich look lunch, while the students tent to eat, but no one of these combinations was "plate" lunch-worth.

MEMORIAL SENIOR HIGH

The Great Halls of Memorial High

After our stomachs are full, Memoria Chargers seem to come to life. Lor Mayfield this year's first place candy pusher hopes that Laura Leslie and Daria Mankins won't think about all those calories until after she has their money. Speaking of money, Memorial is known as a rich school so our classy styles of clothing have to deserve part of the blame. Mr. here White, Mr. Monroe, A son, girlfriend Kar Wynn and Janet Anthony model the latest winter fashions at merchandise visible in the great halls of Memorial High. If you can't decide which shirt to wear, try a plaid. Wear them both. As far as jewelry displays, it's style only for the coolest. If clothes aren't your bag, cars must be. Our parking lot is filled with Corvettes, 280Z's, RX7's and Peps. Yes up to the name also. Ed Lisapawich, John Ping, Justin Hoose and Tom Williamson try to keep this car up to Memorial standards.

Chargers Charge On

Most Chargers find that by 2:45, it is time to charge on home. But Coach Chapman believes in a full day's work and tries to wear out his chargers. Jay Archambo, Harry Crawford, and Bill Daniel are shown working on getting all three of those balls into the hoop at the same time. (Give it up, guys! Stu, boys aren't the only ones that work us down!) Lynn Ruest keeps in shape by going to aerobics class. Other things we do to keep fit:

Even though do not homework has almost become extinct, Terri Simplicy hasn't quite caught on. (Isn't she cute when she thinks?) Look at the clock Terri, no more thinking after 2:45 p.m.

After Hours

Evenings bring about the sides of Memorial students not usually seen from 8:00-2:45. For instance who would have ever guessed that Randy Cloud plays the guitar in the midst of a forest or for heaven's sake that Francey Young actually does homework! Jeff Burwell, a typical high school kid, watches TV and doesn't even think about doing homework (You know, homework that stuff the teacher tells you to do with five minutes left in the class and then says it is due the next day.)

Working during high school is a social norm. Jana Everett works to earn her money at Aberson's while Michele Barfield spends her evenings decorated with bright colors and serving corn dogs with a smile.

Days to Roronoa Zoro

The past year's events have left memories of hope and joy and some of grief and sorrow. Our nation's President, Ronald Reagan, has led our country through our economic recession even though he had been shot in March. Sandra Day O'Connor has made a big step by becoming the first woman Justice in the Supreme Court. The assassination of Anwar Sadat, President of Egypt, shocked the world. Great advancements have been made in space with the success of the Space Shuttle. Finally, the world was enchanted by the extravagance and beauty of the Royal Wedding of Prince Charles and Lady Diana.

We Finally Came Through

Movin' up and comin' through;
We're the class of 82'

The seniors of 1982 did just that. We came through and succeeded in everything we did from selling donuts to financing school activities. During pep rallies we let everyone know that seniors really do RULE! Even though we will all go our separate ways, each and everyone one of us will always hold our own special memories of our days at Memorial High School.

1 Herr Brown what would we have done without him!

2 This looks like one of Coach Chapman's famous donut parties!

3 The senior play, 'Web of Murder' went over well or at least Jim Alexander thought so

4 Thea Boggs can't find a place large enough for her short name on the senior board at Photography Center

5 Terri Shipley is not excited about playing cowboys and Indians just to be able to graduate in a cap and gown

Memorial's Top Ten

Seniors chose their favorite class and Special Physiology made the top of the list. Consequently Coach MacKenna was the favorite teacher. Other favorites include Sr English Accounting Single Survival and Art. Ms. Gordon, Mr. Cunningham, Mr. Becknell and Mrs. McDougal complete the favorite teachers.

Other favorites include

MUSIC GROUPS: Journey, The Cars, Foreign Second Chapter of Acts, and Styx

BOOKS: The Bible, The Outsiders, Gone With Wind, 101 Uses For a Dead Cat, and No One Out of Here Alive

MOVIES: Raiders of the Lost Ark, On Golden Pond, Taps, Arthur, and Stripes

MOST ADMIRE PERSON: Mom and Dad, Ronald Reagan

Every year Seniors are faced with the same question, which college to attend. This year OSU won an overwhelming number. 136 Memorial students will be roaming the campus at St. Olaf. Some students will attend OU. The remainder of the class will be spread from various colleges from SMU to University of Hawaii.

Memorial students enjoyed lunch at Bill and Ruth's Sub Shop at least one day a week. Number two on the list of favorites was Taco Bueno. The rest of the list is Peppers, Arby's and Coney Islander.

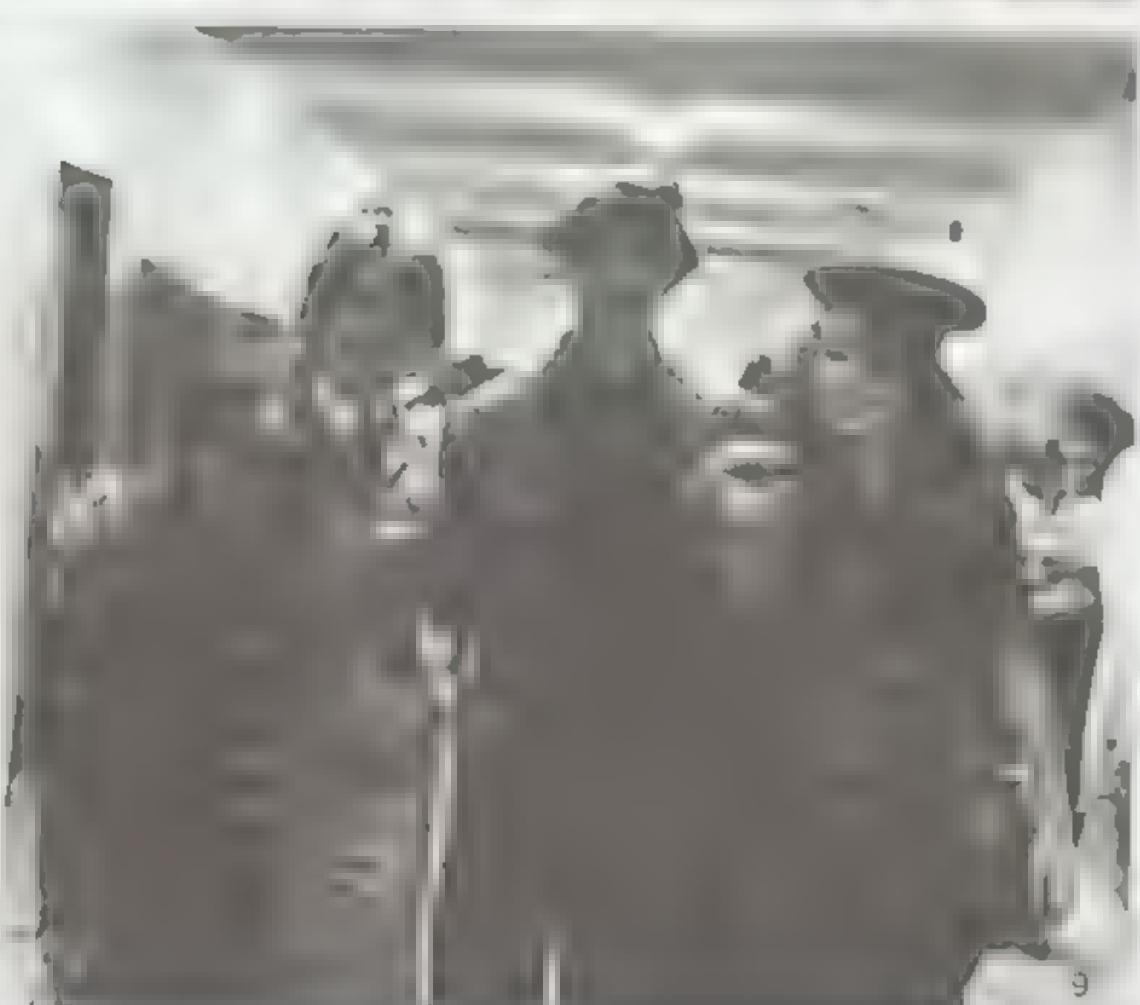

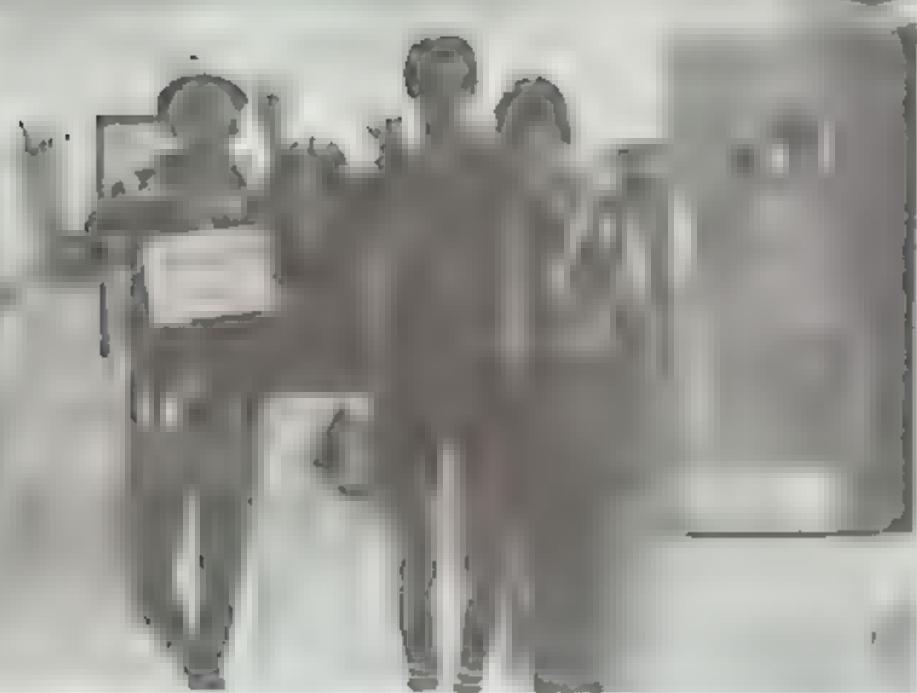

- 1 Coach MacKenna "loves" his Special Phys classes
- 2 Bill and Ruth's even tastes good to the Mickey Mouse Club!
- 3. "Some of this talk is just too much to believe!" (Mark Gaway)
- 4 Even though the sweats clash, Jenni Orvis and Terri Shipley are still friends!
- 5. The Broncos don't even make it over the speed "mountains" at Memorial!
- 6 Aloha! Be There!!
- 7 Remember getting your ears cleaned just because you needed a drink of water
- 8 Your friendly Phillips 66 man is pretty proud of the price he has huh?
- 9 Look out for the Memorial Mash team. They patrol the parking lot!

Remember

Senior Bits and Pieces

1982 used to seem a lifetime away. Now we're wondering where all the years went! Memorial's seniors are one of a kind. We're special because we did our best, for ourselves, for our friends and for our school. Each of us have our bits and pieces of memories, that we'll never forget. We learned together, laughed together, flunked together, and graduated together. The class of '82 is now history.

1. "M and M's get my teeth their whitest!" Andrea Adams

2. Ronald Reagan (Terry O'Donnell) congratulates Jim Kerpon on passing Mr Chapman's Contemporary Affairs

3. What can you say about a beautiful face like that? (Jamil Shoemaker)

4. "Who? What? When? Why?" (Liane Miller)

5. "See what we learned to do in 12 years of school!" (Jim Steyer, Paul Eagleton)

6. "See, I'm not always a scrooge!" (John Phillips)

7. "We really were good all year! You just gotta believe us Santa!"

8. "I'm gonna kill the next person that pulls my ponytail!" (Jeannie Joles)

9. "You're making me nervous!" (Denise Koller)

10. "Yeah, we're good, and we know it!" (Bandies)

Miss Memorial XIX

Homecoming — October 31, 1981

The Queen's Court — David Wheeler, Lisa Davis, Harry Crawford, Brenda Latch, Karen Cooper, Jay Fields, Lori Mayfield, Richard Corley, Jeannie Joles, Gene Bledsoe, LaDawn Pirtle, Sean McKee, Bobby Farris, Cheryl Ponder

Suspense filled the air on the morning of October 31, 1981. The entire student body and faculty were seated in the football stadium. For the second year in a row everyone was to be present for the crowning of Miss Memorial. The ceremony began with the presentation of the winners of the float competition. Next, came the procession of the attendants and their escorts. The long awaited moment finally arrived, and Lori Mayfield was crowned Miss Memorial XIX. The festive overtone of the day carried over into the evening as the Chargers proved victorious over the Central Braves.

feelings I had the day I was chosen Miss Memorial XIX are almost too great to describe. When my name was called I felt shock. Then after the initial shock passed, I realized the responsibility that accompanies the title of Miss Memorial. The honor I have received is truly a great responsibility. I will try my best to live up to the name of Miss Memorial. I will honor the title just as you have honored me by choosing me to represent such a fine school. The feelings you have given me will never leave my heart and the memories will never fade away.

Sincerely,
Lori Mayfield

This year's musical, The King and I, was presented February 18, 19, and 20. It is the story of the King of Siam and his experiences with an English tutor named Anna. The King wants to Westernize his country, but he has trouble accepting Anna's ideas because she is a woman. Anna eventually has great influence with the King, and they become great friends. The musical was, as usual, well-performed and successful.

- 1 Simon of Legree and his scientific dogs search for Eliza.
- 2 Anna sings about her deceased husband
3. Kralahome gives Anna and Louis a warm welcome
- 4 The royal children "get to know" Anna
5. Tuptim retorts "My Master is Pleased"
- 6 Kralahome asks Lady Thiang, "Have you been match making again?"
- 7 The wives make fun of western people
- 8 The children wait for Anna
- 9 Captain Orton is not about to tell Louis which way Siam is
- 10 The march of the Siamese Children
11. The King describes his puzzlement
- 12 A child performs to please Anna
13. Lady Thiang sings about the wonderful King

Spirit Week '82 ran from April 12 through April 16. The week's activities included: Monday — Hat Day; Tuesday — 60's Day; Wednesday — Punk/Non-Prep Day; Thursday — Clash Day; Friday — Hawaiian Day. During the week the Sophomores sold snowcones and cotton candy and sponsored a Dunk Machine. The Latin Club sponsored their annual Slave Sale and everyone participated in Almost Anything Goes. The administration and the students worked together to make Spirit Week the best ever.

1965-1981

Juniors started the year promoting and selling tickets for the Soph.-Jr. play. Everyone had a chance to get involved in the homecoming gala. Juniors decorated their float and gave the junior hall a good working over. The junior hall took first place. What spirit! What class! The big day came for juniors to take their first step towards becoming a senior. The class of '83 placed their orders for class rings in October. Senioritis is just beginning to set in! "Show your spirit! Buy a Charger spirit mug Support the junior class." Remember these posters Juniors worked hard selling these mugs. Did you support your class?

LOVE WILL KEEP US TOGETHER

Love Is A Strange Thing
It is a flower so delicate
That a touch will bruise it
And so strong that nothing will stop its growth

How often we miss love
by a wrong gesture
by an unspoken word
by not keeping silent
at the right time
How easily we lose love
by interference of others
by lack of money
by a quarrel over nothing

September Sophomores started the year a little backwards with one foot in the hole and the other on a banana peel.

October Tickets for the Soph - Jr play sold like hotcakes. Sophomores exceeded the Juniors with sales mounting to $300 dollars.

November The lollipop sales were real "LIFESAVERS," adding 400 dollars to the Sophomore treasury.

December The class of '84 made sure two needy families had a Merry Christmas by collecting money and purchasing food, clothing, toys, and two Christmas trees. That's the true meaning of Christmas!

January Disney stick candy sold as though Mickey Mouse was managing the sales. The election for Sophomore class favorites was held. Julie Wakefield and Blake Fail were chosen.

THE BUCK STOPS HERE

During her two short years here at Memorial, Betty Sprinkle has gained the support of the students and faculty. She has shown great school pride by attending football games, basketball games, plays, musicals, and numerous other events. Her interest in every aspect of Memorial's student activities has strengthened the bond between administration and the students. The bond was also strengthened with the parents by her participation in monthly P-T A coffees.

Under Betty Sprinkle's able supervision, changes were made both inside and outside the school building. These affected the school's staff as well as the school's appearance. For certain faculty and administrative members were reassigned to better serve the needs of the students. The changes made to the building and grounds included freshly painted walls inside the building and speed bumps in the students' parking lot. These changes have helped add to Memorial's reputation as being the best school in Tulsa, both in scholastics and in extracurricular activities. This all goes to prove what Betty Sprinkle says — "Good things are happening at Memorial this year."

- 1 A file-cabinet meeting between Mrs. Hemphill and Mrs. Sprinkle
- 2 Dr. Larry Zenke, Superintendent of Tulsa Public Schools
- 3 You clap your hands while I beat out the tempo on my desk (Mrs. Hemphill and Sprinkle)
- 4 Mrs. Orcutt had a busy first year as secretary to Mrs. Sprinkle
- 5 Tulsa School Board of Education
- 6 Mrs. Sprinkle and Mrs. Back discuss school activities

Dale Schuler
Assistant Principal

sistant Principals Dale Schuler and Talmadge Thompson have shown an ever deepening interest in the academic and extracurricular programs at Memorial. Mr. Schuler's many duties include coordinating activity programs, keeping financial records, supervising the bookstore, and keeping the school's major calendar. He is also the Rifle Club sponsor. Mr. Thompson's responsibilities include class schedules for teachers and students. He also organizes test schedules for the SRA, SAT, PSAT, and the ACT tests. Together these two men help maintain the Memorial tradition of excellence.

Oh, yes, I can sell you an elevator pass for 2 (Mr. Schuler)

Mr. Schuler: "Are you serious?"

Put your right foot in — put your right foot out — (Mr. Schuler, Mr. Thompson)

Now it's your turn — you make the cards stand on edge," says Mr. Schuler to Mr. Cox

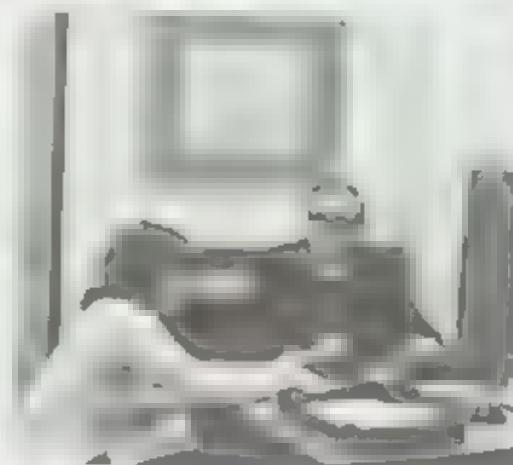

But I told her I couldn't help being late. (Mr. Thompson, Mrs. Cox)

"Do you mind if I quote that?" is the question Mrs. Orcutt asks Mr. Thompson and Mr. Cox

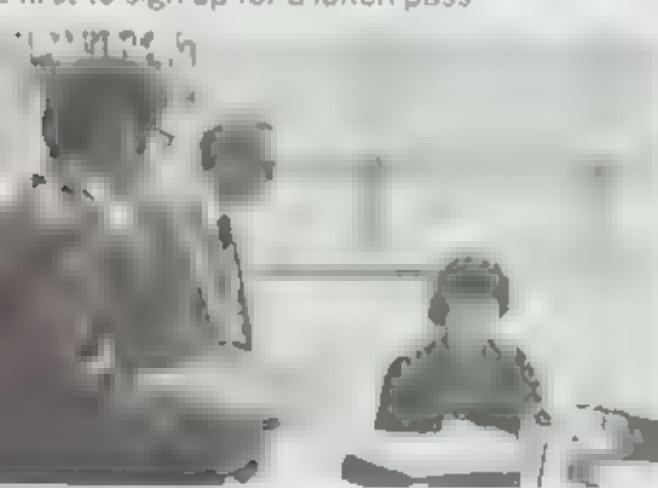

Mr. Thompson can't believe his secretary is the first to sign up for a lunch pass

Dean of Students

As deans of Memorial High School, Marge Creager and Warren Booze show a responsibility to the students by watching out for the students' best interests. This includes paying particular attention to those troubled and mischievous students by handling disciplinary action, unexcused absences and tardies. The results show that they do their job well and take pride in the work done.

- 1 Mr. Booze 'takin' care of business
- 2 Mr. Booze and Mr. Roberts discuss the school schedule
- 3 Mrs. Creager says, "Now look, you two. I have enough trouble with the students" (Mr. Klarl and Mr. Call)
- 4 Mr. Booze and Mrs. Creager both wear trench coats (but can't remember the password!)
- 5 Mrs. Creager displays an ever-present smile
6. Mr. Booze smiles as he thinks, "The goodness it's Fr day

Counselors have a never ending job, for they are aware of every aspect of the students' school life. It is the counselors' responsibility to oversee the students' schedules, ensuring the right subjects and courses are taken to guarantee graduation. They are also responsible for scheduling parent conferences, arranging for college representatives, and serving as liaisons in teacher-student relations. Consequently, the counselors continue to play an important role in school life at Memorial.

Making a school operate efficiently needs the help of experienced people. An area of great importance is the main office. Keeping busy with such tasks as typing, answering phones, changing schedules, or preparing morning bulletins must require the staff to have much patience and devotion. Just as important are the people who make up the attendance office. With the aid of this office the teachers can rely on a fairly accurate account of student attendance. Others that the school depends on are the people who run the bookstore and nurse's office. Without all of these, our school may not function very smoothly.

Tomorrow's "Businessmen"

Memorial offers a number of business education courses which are very beneficial to any student. Acquiring the skill of typing can stay with a person the rest of his life. It is also very helpful if a person plans to enter college. Taking an accounting course may help a student find a possible career as an accountant. No potential secretary should be without taking shorthand or business procedures. Other possible courses to consider would be a business law class or business math.

- 1 Karen Cooper learns the tricks of working crossword puzzles
- 2 Richard Corley and Mark Gaway are extremely enthused over their accounting
3. Craig Clark concentrates on scoring an "A" in timing
- 4 Karen Anderson works diligently on making her accounting balance
- 5 Mrs. Dougess watches over her accounting class
- 6 David Jones looks for possible errors
- 7 P.J. Urich, Brad Martin, and Robert Yadon enjoy Business Law

Workin' 9 to 5

The COE and DE department at Memorial is a very successful program in promoting business and marketing for students. This enables them to acquire first hand experience with the help of able instructors. These students are also guided by teachers in finding appropriate part-time jobs pertaining to their course of study

- 1 Deca provides a display to help promote enrollment in distributive education
- 2 Jeanine Morris, Patti Jones, Anne McCabe, Stephanie Vanderlind, Jeff Manatrey and Mary Griffin are all part of the DE program
- 3 Mrs Wells helps Stephanie Vanderlind and Anne McCabe with their assignments
- 4 Jeanine Morris and Patti Jones look through the DECA newsletter
- 5 Terri Sherrell learns through experience
- 6 Becky Rinkel works with the computer
- 7 Mrs Hughes organizes possible jobs for the COE students
- 8 Becky York and Shelly Johnson compare their COE assignments
- 9 Loretta McKevey learns proper telephone etiquette

Memorial's Roving Reporters

The Wall Street Journal may have the largest circulation, but as far as Memorial students are concerned the Sentinel ranks at the top. The Sentinel is the students' source for school events, such as sports, plays and assemblies. More interesting articles cover students' views on such things as speed bumps, school food and various facets of Charger life.

- 1 It's pretty hard to turn the page on this edition. (Chris Owen)
2. Lyn Ruess and Becky Stutz discuss a layout for the Sentinel
3. John Goodwin experiments with one of the Sentinel's layouts
4. Let your fingers do the reading
5. That sub at Bill and Ruth's was really something (Mike Richardson)
6. Blake Ashlock tries to hold the page down with his elbow

Memorial Students Turn Write

Memorial's English Department has succeeded once again in teaching the students the fundamentals of grammar and composition. Some of the literature favorites enjoyed by Memorial students include Shakespeare's Macbeth and Hamlet and Nathaniel Hawthorne's Scarlet Letter. Another aspect of English enjoyed by the students is the wide variety of homework.

- 1 I'll trade you my pen for your pencil (Mrs. Green and Bonnie Spence)
- 2 She doesn't know we can sleep with our eyes wide open (Jeff Murry)
3. This is her "pop quiz w th-10-essay-questions smile (Mrs. McDougal)
- 4 This English class "loves" reading their Lively Art of Writing book
- 5 Mrs. Chappelle shows Patti MacManus how to take a test
- 6 A typical English class
- 7 Here's one Ford they won't recall for a slow engine (Linda Ford)
- 8 "And then guess what I said . ." (Paul Gattis and Donna Paulson)

From Cameras to Cars

The Industrial Arts Department offers both boys and girls the opportunity to study anything from auto mechanics to developing film. Courses taught include drafting, electronics, automobile repair, and photography.

1. They can't seem to avoid the draft. (Tim Dreiling)
2. Our new hobby — lifting engines. (Delman Norman and Mark Wiley)
3. Balancing pencils takes concentration (Mark McElroy)
4. Mr. Wheeler gives us his distinguished pose
5. "And they said I couldn't draw circles and chew on a sucker at the same time" (Jack Kuykendall)
6. "I'll push hard and run fast while you steer." (Justin Hoose)
7. "These electronic gadgets confuse me (Troy Guinn)

Memorial's Future Picassos

The award-winning Memorial Art Department again this year produced winners in both local and state art contests. The culmination of the students' work was shown at the annual Memorial High School Spring Art Show, where friends and parents could view the work done. All forms of art work are involved, including sculpting, still life, oils, portraiture and pottery.

- 1 Help! I can't see my painting (Tara Fryer)
- 2 All it needs is "de plane de plan" and Mr. Roark will give me my wish (Francis Macarian)
- 3 ' My dream girl ' (Chris Owen)
- 4 "This paint-by-number set is hard " (Dana Licker)
- 5 "And they thought I couldn't paint " (Britni Craig)
- 6 Jeff Smith works on Uncle Thomas mask

Speechies Speak With Style

To eloquently emote and be an erudite elocutionist is the aim of Cora McDonald's students. Plainly speaking, these are the Speech classes. Their assignments involve not only learning how to speak before a group, but advance into the area of mime, play acting, facial expressions and control, and all aspects of being an effectual performer.

Many students use their talent to be part of the class plays, school musical, and to perform in speech competitions among the city and state schools. Even if the student is not interested in the performing aspect of the speech class, the experience taken from the group is invaluable in dealing with people in everyday life both in the school and the working world.

1. The speech class portrays Scrooge
- 2 "Oh, my goodness," cries Mrs McDonald
3. "Teddy critiques the speeches not I," says Mrs McDonald
4. Mrs McDonald asks Michelle Canon. "What in the world is this?"
5. This little teapot has his handle on, what's wrong with his spout? (Mrs McDonald)
- 6 If I sleep sitting up, maybe she won't notice

A Longing to Learn Languages

In memory of Virginia Smith
1932-1981

The importance and enthusiasm which Memorial students show for foreign languages can be seen through the increased enrollment in the programs. The students can choose between French, German, Spanish and Latin, from beginning to advanced independent study.

The scope of the language program can be witnessed during the annual International Feast. At this event, all classes and their guests are surrounded by a mixture of food, language, and atmosphere from all countries represented.

- 1 I told him I couldn't possibly go to the chariot races looking like this. (Mrs. Holley)
2. Latin students re-enacting a typical Roman household (Paul Eagleton, Scott Vrooman, Heather Brown, Becky Price)
- 3 Mr. Johnson performs one of Slim Whitman's Spanish songs
4. The subject of our sermon is — (Mr. Cruz)
- 5 I wonder if Caesar had a toga catalog to look through (Mrs. Holley)
- 6 The German class poses for the camera

Keep the Home Fires Burning

The Home Ec Department provides all the students with the skills needed to "survive single." In these classes, students become acquainted with aspects of cooking, clothing, family life and financial planning. Homemaking classes study cooking and sewing; clothing classes range from simple to couture designs; while Single Survival provides a combination of necessary skills for living independently.

- 1 Now to add salt, sliced strawberries, one arm
" (Mary Kondos, Mike Diggs, Teresa Lebo)

Trig + Algebra = Homework

Or, It All Adds Up! The Math Department achieves its goal of providing maximum quality education for Memorial. Courses range from Basic Math to Calculus to Computer Math to Geometry. With this variety to choose from, the student is offered exactly the course he needs to meet his requirements.

1. "I'll get an A in concentration."
- 2 Computer math scholar fishing for answers (Terry Fisher)
- 3 New version of the fairy tale entitled, "Beauties and the Sleeping Beast"
- 4 "These comics fit right inside these pages (Math class)
5. "I'm great at drawing these lines it's the problem I can't solve. (Cate Colburn)
6. "Wonder how long it will be before HBO comes on?" (Patti Appleman, Nancy Dougherty)
7. And the weather map for today shows... (Gary Ledbetter)
- 8 But if you can't remember 2 plus 2 maybe you might need a tutor" (Mr Reynolds and Kris Keegan)

Memorials Unsung Heroes

From answering the phones to grading papers, Memorial students are an indispensable part of helping the school to run smoothly. Under the heading of School Service, students receive classroom credit for their help. These pupils are indeed the unsung heroes as they check out library books, deliver passes, grade papers and run errands. Without these assistants, teachers and staff would have less time to perform their tasks.

- 1 I hope some good looking girl will check me out (Jordan Randall)
- 2 Restringing tennis rackets is my favorite class (Trey Krampf)
- 3 Aren't we the sixth caller? (Karen Hoflich, Bridget Dorndorfer)
- 4 Grading papers goes faster with a Dr Pepper (Mrs. Cairns, Taleri Thomas)
- 5 "Memorial High School — may I help you? (Laurie Rush)
- 6 Watch the birdie (Ricky Bennett)
- 7 These students enjoy working in the Dean's office (Shawn Patrick, Eric Keener)
- 8 The Three Stooges. (Kimber Ray, Tony Corneto, Greg Carmack)

Stagecraft, under the direction of Mr Poss, greatly added to the success of Memorial's productions by planning and building all stage props for assemblies and events. Members of the AV classes delivered and operated equipment, along with doing production work for teachers, Custodians and cafeteria workers provide the necessary services to keep the school going smoothly

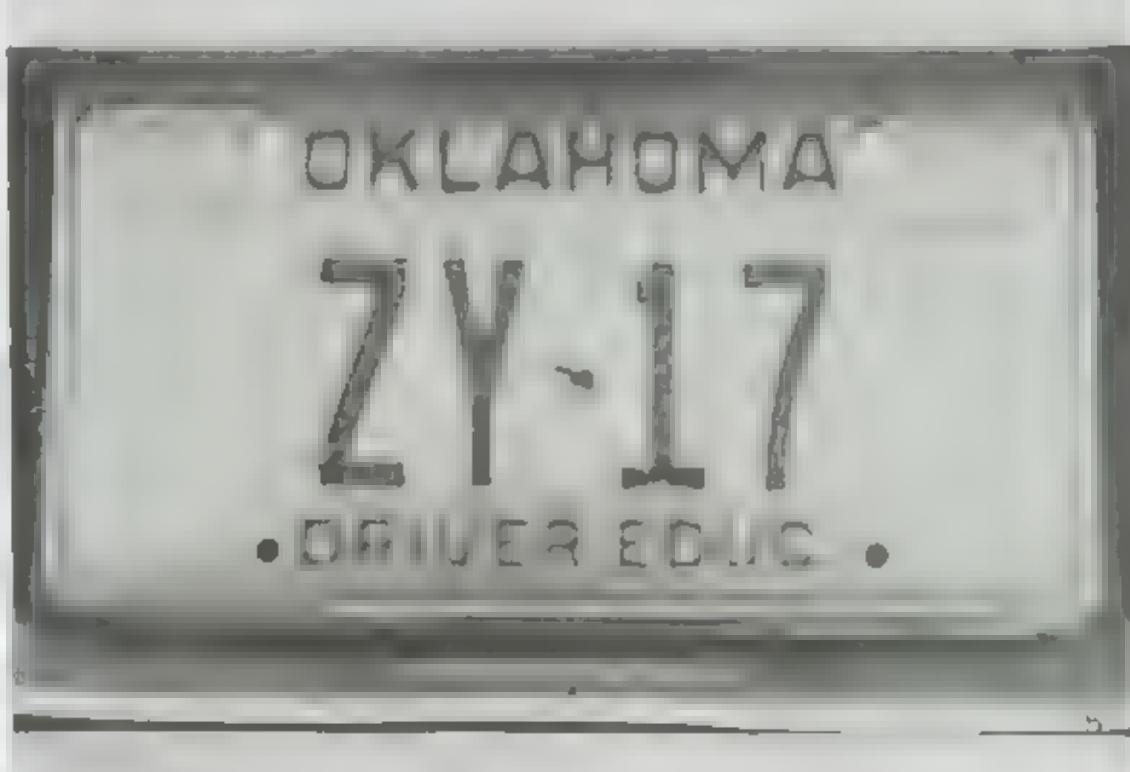

1. Don't stand there! Help me get my fingers out of the hole! (Robert Womack, Mr McCoy)
2. If you're sane, you're not one of us. (Stagecraft)
3. What! They pre-empted General Hospital? (Mr McCoy)
4. Cheese...cake (Fran Amilian)
5. Who let the puppy in here? (Mr. Cordle, Mr Cannaran)
6. Students and janitors get along fine
7. We get served the leftovers

Trikes to Trans-Am

Probably the most sought after and long awaited course at Memorial is Drivers' Education. In the classroom, students learn the rules of the road and practice safe driving habits by use of simulators. After several months, the instructors take the students on the highways for actual driving experience.

1. Now there's a good-looking guy. (Wilson Hunt)
- 2 Reminds me of Six Flags. (Tina Edwards)
- 3 Mr. Hopper shows his students what they shouldn't do
- 4 A traffic jam in the middle of Memorial
- 5 People avoid this kind of license on the highway
6. I Just L-O-O-V-E Drivers' Ed. (Nancy Jitter)

Something Special

Teachers work closely with students in the Special Education Department. They also give individual attention to our foreign students to aid them in learning English

13. Mrs. Lentz prepares to show one of the well loved history films
14. Coach Chapman seems a bit nervous with the visit by the policeman
15. The much cherished American Government book frequently found in the hallway

History, History, History

10

A part of every high school curriculum is the ever popular history courses. No one is able to avoid this class because it is a requirement for every graduating Memorial Senior to have taken some history at some time. For a start most sophomores take U.S. history. After that a student has his choice of a few different areas of history, such as World History, Amer. Govn't, Sociology, and Contemporary Affairs. Through a student's years in history he must have endured the ritual activities of films, class discussions, research projects, oral reports, and guest speakers.

The members of the Memorial Concert Chorus serve as representatives of our school in their many appearances throughout the city of Tulsa. By request this group performs for both the Downtown and Eastside Rotary clubs, churches, and various Junior High assemblies. In addition, they join with the chorus from Edison High school to present Christmas carols during the holiday season. For their fellow students, Concert Chorus joins with the other musical groups to present both winter and spring programs.

Intermingled with preparations for these activities, the students learn music theory, involving how to read and write music, and study music literature, encompassing jazz, rock, blues and classical selections.

Accompanist for the concert Chorus is Laura Leslie. Dan Call serves as director.

PEP CLUB really kept the pride burning within the Memorial fans. When a Charger walked down the main hall on game day, it was evident who was the best in T-Town. The pep fans were ready to work no matter where they ventured. Even when they traveled to M*A*S*H Muskogee, to win their first UNDEFEATED season, our stands were filled. Pep Club held the M S Drive, had many door decorating contests, Pep Rallies, and dress-up days to raise our Charger Spirit. No one else had as much spirit as these CHARGERS!!

- 1 I'm a nurse at the 4077th (Sherry Adams)
- 2 WE LOVE OUR TEAM!!
3. "We are Family"
- 4 Miss Piggy, our newest cheerleader
5. "Howdy Pardners, welcome to the Memorial Cow Poke Range!!" (Devin Northcutt)

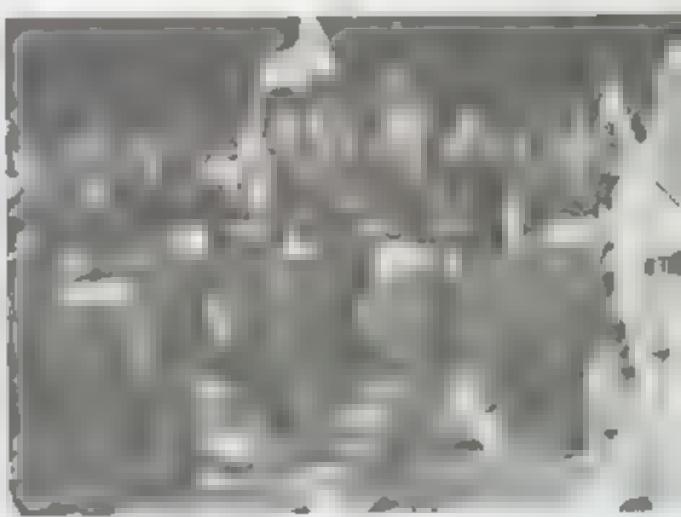

1. "Don't worry, she always looks this way" (Teresa Miller and Julie Wakefield)
2. The Army wants you!!
3. "Chargers on the run."
4. "Those amazing Charger Fans."

BIGBLUEMACHINEBIGBLUEMACHINEBIGBLUEMACHINE

Band — The Big Blue Machine had an "AWESOME Year They started out this great season with a new director, Mr. Jair Klarfeld, and his assistant Miss Chris Thiry, who had full responsibility for the flags and rifles. The band was lucky to have two of the best drum majors in the state, Cindy Standish and Carol Daubert. The voice for the Big Blue Machine was Robert Yaon. The band received a SUPERIOR rating at the FAIR PARADE, MARCHARAMA, which is against all the other city bands and STATE COMPETITION. They also received 2nd place in the Christmas Parade. This year was a truly AWESOME year for the B.G BLUE MACHINE.

1. The Band is all bundled up and ready to watch those Chargers win!!
- 2 Tony concentrates on his drumming
- 3 Heather Brown and Kern Deetz stand at Attention
- 4 Don Edwards blows a few tunes
5. The Swingingest Percussion Section in all the land
- 6 "Look, there's a bird over head, but never fear Super Cymbals is here I'll smash that culprit"

Chargerettes — The squad consisted of 10 very devoted girls. They showed their devotion by being at practice at 6:15 every morning with or without the band. With 2 very deranged leaders, who were always asleep at the flag, they yanked, swung and smashed in unison. And sometimes not in unison, as demonstrated in their famous flag toss, which was guaranteed to knock out a few band members. Our hats off to the Chargerettes!!!

Encorps — The rifle squad did very well this year considering they had a whole new squad. The rifles became familiar with drop tocs, hip swaying, and crazy eights. The Rifles acted as royal keepers of the balloons for the bands "Grand Finale," which was a real show stopper. The Rifles and flags were a real asset to the band.

- 1 Flags and rifles create a fanfare around soloist Graham Lockett and Lisa Coggins
2. "Peek-a-Boo!"
- 3 Tracie Brown and Helen Manning show how to count
- 4 "Oh no, an attack rifle!"

AFS — American Field Service is an exciting group here in America. Memorial has 3 AFS students. Hannah Raikonen, Finland; Beto Trjo, Venezuela; Ivar Opieen, Norway. We also have a YFU student, Lars Anderson, Sweden. All our foreign students were very active. All three young men were on soccer teams, and Hannah took Speech I and was in a few plays.

The AFS group gave and went to many parties, participated in the Tulsa State Fair, and they went skiing over Christmas Break. All in all the group gave our foreign visitors a great view of life in the states.

1. Hannah Raikkonen says "I just used two tubes of close-up to get my teeth this white

MASQUE & GAVEL

MASQUE & GAVEL

Masque and Gavel is the speech society here at Memorial. This group has been very active this year. Many were involved with those FAMOUS OVERNIGHT TOURNAMENTS!!! They got down to some serious winning and brought back "mucho" trophies. Masque and Gavel presented NIGHT OF ONE ACTS in January. They were: "Days on End," "The Widows Pight," and "Cinderella Wore Combat Boots." They took "Cinderella" to Regional One Act Contest and won SECOND, and advanced to State to win FOURTH. This year's activities included candy sales, 10th annual Memorial Speech Tournament, parties, a picnic and the Grand Finale was the "Banquet."

1. "You have such dreamy eyes!" (Beverlye Gordon and David Rosenleib)

RED CROSS.

Again this has been a very successful year for RED CROSS. They held the Canned food drive, annual Gobble-Off, and the blood drive. They also had many little "Santa's Helpers" to stuff stockings. And as usual the Blood Drive went better than ever.

1. Jenny Joles does the soft shoe for the Gobble-Off
2. George Spencer engulfed in putting the Blood Drive kits together
3. Mary Manicom keeps people registered and things running smooth

EDCROSSREDCROSSREDCROSSREDCROSSREDCROSS

SURFS: This group of girls enjoyed many activities which included canoeing, street skating, ice skating, a float trip adventure to the Rocky Horror Picture Show, had many parties, and went to Worlds of Fun. Everyday at 12:50 these zany girls headed for the pool to put together this year's Surf Show. This year's show was "Surfs in the Spotlight." Just a few of the wild and crazy performers were: "Can Can Dancers" Chimney Sweeps, Flappers, Island Girls and an appearance from Peter Pan. The finale, spectacularly executed, was from "A Chorus Line." This year's show could not have been such a success without the help of Sharon Cairnes.

1. Flappers for the show Carey Johnson, Doryss Andretta, Lisa Mears, Heather Pinkus
- 2 Island Girls do the Hula, while Popeye sings (Linda Ford, Barry Hatchett, John McMullen)

Art Club — FUN! FUN! FUN!!! This year's main project was the mural painted on the building at 13th and Peoria. The money they received for the project will be split up and much will go towards scholarships. The Art Club painted Christmas windows for Burger King and Swensons. The Club had work displayed at Triangle Art Co. The Art Club went on a field trip to the Downtown Depot and to Philbrook Art Center.

LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL

Kent & Jaw

Tommy

Marcia Surrett
and Lori Mayfield

Prom is a farewell celebration of the past, and a good-luck party for the future. Dressed in formal attire, flowers and smiles, everyone headed for the William Plaza Ballroom. "Little Brother" rocked the night away and the 1982 graduates sure kept up the beat. The rockin' still didn't stop at 12:00, as most rocked on to the after parties. The night left many memories of laughter, romance, friends and craziness, and The Class of '82 proved once again we really knew how to LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL!

TUESDAY
MAY 25, 1982

Ziegfields and John Bayouth proudly present the Memorial High School class of 1982 Senior Breakfast. Our class showed our style at this ritzy place. (of course, it cost $10 to be so elaborate) and ate like the queens and kings of yesterday. The senior assembly was a memory maker. The whole occasion was for us to have a lasting memory of the talent in the class of '82. The band, singing, and comic relief let us break away from the sadness of high school coming to an end.

GOVERNOR GEORGE VIGH - SPEAKER

As each member of the 1982 graduating class finally held their diploma in hand, some smiled, some cried, and some smiled and cried at the same time. Wells Fargo Memorial High School hopes all its graduates walk away from its halls with pride for where they came from, and dreams for where they'll be tomorrow. We were the best yesterday, we are the best today, and we will be the best tomorrow.

GO FOR IT, 1982!!

MEMORIAL TAPS

Dedicated to Tulsa Students and Teachers
Served on World Wars I, II and the Korean War

I am dedicated in memory of all Tulsa students and teachers who, in complete devotion, I have learned that those ideals which built our Republic shall remain forever secure.

My high purpose is to teach an abiding love of America which shall serve her at all times. If my should destiny so determine, a love of country, I will courageously serve her to "the last full measure of devotion" that the dignity of our nation always held in esteem.

I am a perpetual light to all who seek freedom.

As long as youth shall devote serious endeavor in my classroom, and the school corridors with laughter, I stand as a teacher for all who seek a better life through education.

TAPS

...the sky All is well, safely rest, God is nigh

ALMA MATER

Firmly founded Alma Mater. Ever true will be. Here in your halls of learning pledge we loyalty. We'll sing praises, speed them onward, to the world proclaim, we'll always shield and cherish Memorial High School.
